

It was with great pleasure and an honour to judge the London Bulldog Society's 125th anniversary open show on the 12.06.2016. This was a great social event with the hospitable committee dressed as Victorians creating a great friendly welcoming atmosphere. The spirit was also shared by exhibitors who all accepted my decisions with a sporting attitude and although it was a hot day I am happy to say that all exhibits handled the heat well. Viewing the dogs head on provides one aspect and side on provides another perspective which impacted my decisions.
